

Partnered Trading

A partnership approach to enhancing your growth strategy

There's no such thing as "one size fits all" when it comes to your operational and trading needs. Backed by the expertise of State Street global market professionals, our flexible suite of services spans the investment process and is designed to augment and improve on your existing capabilities — so you can customize a solution that meets your changing needs.

Comprehensive trading support

Operating in a broker-neutral, agency-only capacity, we provide trade execution and operational services across equities, fixed income, exchange-traded derivatives and foreign exchange — in both developed and emerging markets.

Front-office integration

Our support model provides you with 24/6 access to global trading. Portfolio managers and clients can direct trade allocation instructions to research broker counterparties, and view and consume stock-level and macro research, as well as proprietary research data.

Middle- and back-office integration

We offer integration with our front-to-back platform, State Street Alpha®, to help you better manage your business and effectively navigate market complexities. Through an open-architecture framework, the platform harmonizes your data and technology, so you work from a single source of truth.

Key features:

Tighten your focus on more critical alpha-generating functions and higher-value trading activities

Streamline operational workflows while minimizing overhead costs

Access new markets and liquidity sources

Expand your team's capacity with outsourced trading professionals supporting your global trading activities 24/6
